Application for Data Analyst (m/w/d)

Dear Hiring Team,

I am writing to apply for the Data Analyst position at Mobilize Financial Services. I have a Master's in Artificial Intelligence and three years of experience building and deploying AI applications, most of it spent getting messy source data into a reliable, validated shape that business users can act on.

At Kniit I was the sole developer of a pipeline that extracts knowledge from complex regulatory and technical documents for the German energy sector. I worked with SAP domain experts to define what correct output looks like, built the ground truth from their SAP data, and used it to test every change. That raised precision and recall from 33% and 45% to 93% and 90%. For a second, high-volume source I replaced the LLM approach with a code-based pipeline, which cut a projected $200,000 LLM budget to near-zero running cost.

Gathering requirements from non-technical stakeholders is familiar to me. As an AI Consulting Intern at Covestro I talked with business teams about their decision workflows and turned them into a working solution. Earlier, as a Data Scientist intern, I engineered features from sensor time series with Pandas and NumPy, benchmarked models against the existing empirical method, and built a Streamlit dashboard so chemists could test parameter changes before running a batch. My daily tools are Python and SQL (Postgres). I have not worked with Alteryx or Power Automate yet, and I would pick them up on top of my scripting and automation background.

Mobilize Financial Services runs data from banking, leasing and vehicle services in an international group, so data models, interfaces and data governance are a daily topic. A role between the business units and IT, with room to shape documentation and development standards, is work I do well.

I am based in Neuss and hold an EU Blue Card, so no sponsorship is needed. I can start on 15 November 2026 and am happy to travel. My German is B1 and my English is business fluent, so I have written in English. Thank you for considering my application.

Kind regards,

Chandu Prasad Bhairapu
